

Please delay your new rules decision until after you have broadly announced your intentions to the nation and the public debates your intended decision. The airwaves are ours. You are charged to represent all the people, not just a few corporate owners privileged to gain private audience with you